OLDFACTORY LLC

Naturally Driven – Master Crafted Skincare & Home Goods

The Old Factory collection is our left brain collection, focusing on fresh ingredients, colorful packaging, and beautifully botanical based aesthetics. This garden-to-home style line is extremely versatile, an amazing seller in any retail situation from boutiques, to gourmet kitchen shops, vintage and floral shops, hardware and grocery stores, and more! Its fresh, colorful packaging lends itself to both daily use and gift purchases. Old Factory specializes in artisan handmade soap and natural skincare but we also create a variety of other popular products including unique kitchen & home items. What sets Old Factory brands apart from other soap companies? Our high quality ingredients, our unique packaging designed in house, and our one-of-a-kind blended essential oil scents. PAROUSIA®

INTUITIVE PROJECTED ESSENCES

Parousia by Old Factory is our right brain collection. An adventure into the creative unknown, and our most unique product offerings. Parousia shares illustrative stories through the magic of plant based perfumery. Using the same fine ingredients as our original Old Factory brand, Parousia intuitively crafts essential oil blends that attempt to (re)create a thousand images, feelings, and ideas gathered from our imagination and the world around us. Each finely tuned perfume is exhibited in mediums of master crafted soap, perfume oils, bath salt, and candles. This brand is ideal for customers looking for a unique, thoughtfully crafted product made with high quality ingredients. It features unique and beautiful illustrations, aromas, packaging, attracting buyers seeking an original and unique scent to call their own.

TRUE ARTISANAL QUALITY

NATURALLY DRIVEN

Simple ingredients in their purest forms. High quality recipes fit for kings and queens, but priced for the people. Just read our ingredients. Our formulations were designed as powerful support for your skin. We will never compromise quality for price, and we'll never sink to low marketing tricks such as adding tiny percentages of decadent oils just to get it on our labels. We are the natural soap company you've been looking for.

ARTISANAL PACKAGING

Did you know that all of our soap sampler boxes are handmade right here in the shop? They've always been. In fact most of our packaging is designed, printed, and constructed right here in-house. Beginning with a pencil and paper, our designs come from our heart, and our quest for truth & beauty. Look closely. Our packaging can also be recycled or reused. Besides reducing waste and allowing us to be more creative, we feel that it brings us closer to everything we send out into the world.

MASTERCRAFTED

True artisanal quality. Beyond our beautiful packaging is an even more beautiful product made with recipes refined for years. Combining extensive research, intuitive and folk knowledge, with fine wholesome ingredients – our master perfumer seeks to tell stories & teach lessons through creative aromatherapy. Working with the ever changing natural world around us, our line is constantly evolving – watch for limited edition's and house-crafted aromas extracted from our local Texas plants.
